How do you effectively communicate and gain traction with members of Congress?

How do you make the most of a visit by a member or staffer to your facility?

What do members and staff really care about (what motivates them)?

"This is the best insight I've seen on how Congress really operates, and from someone who really knows. I've gained more understanding in these few hours than from my master's classes on Congress this year; I wish I'd seen this much earlier."

- Military fellow finishing a Congressional fellowship

"The Congress: From the Inside" is a tailored, interactive seminar that offers a behind the scenes view of the inner-workings of the U.S. Congress. Delivered by the CEO of Mission Sync LLC Louis Tucker, "The Congress" includes rare insights and anecdotes from Louis' eight cumulative years in the Senate as a military liaison, a Chief of Staff and as the Staff Director for the Vice Chairman of the Senate Select Committee on Intelligence.

"The Congress" covers the ins and outs of personal offices and committee operations, along with examples of landmark legislation like the Foreign Intelligence Surveillance Amendments Act (FISAA). More than a general overview, Louis explains what motivates members and staff to act on issues, how to communicate effectively with them to advance interests, and how to interpret responses of members and staff.

Louis includes atmospherics from having traveled to over 80 countries with members and staff in the Congress, and he explains how congressional oversight functions for America's operations abroad.

- Presentation may be modified to fit longer or shorter sessions as required.
